Riga, Sept. 27.

WE expect with some impatience to have the confirmation of what we told you formerly we were advised of from Pleſco, viz. That all the Moſcovite Troops were ordered to march forthwith towards the Ukraine, to be employed against the Turks, though we have the leſs reason to doubt the truth of it, for that from Moſco they write the same thing; notwithstanding which, our Enemies we hear still give out, that the Czar of Moſcovy will take the advantage of the present posture of things to make War upon us. The last week arrived here our new Governor General Count Chriſtian Horne, and was received with all the honours and respects this City was capable of. Two dayes since likewise arrived here 100 men of the Garison of Landſkroon in Schonen, and the rest are daily expected.

Dantzick, Octob. 1. The Letters we received by the last Ordinary from Poland, speak generally of so great appearance of a sudden Peace with the Turks, though what ground they have for it, we cannot learn; and on the contrary there are very fresh Letters from Leopol which say, that the Turks had taken and burnt two considerable places, and that they were advancing with their whole Force united together. It is indeed the prayer of all people, that a speedy Peace may be concluded, which seems only able to free Poland from the ruines and devastations that must be expected from so formidable an Enemy, at a time, when the Forces of the Kingdom are so few, that they can hardly appear in the Field; however much may be expected next to the divine assistance, from the great courage and conduct of the King, who the last Summer with a handful of men frustrated the designs of 200000.

Warsaw, Octob. 2. This afternoon arrives the Post from Leopol, which brings an account of a Victory obtained by his Majesty against the Tartars, with these particulars; That upon the advice the King received of the advance of the Turks and Tartars, that they had taken and burnt Jaſlowic, and one or two other places, and that they threatned to do the like to Trembowla; his Majesty, after having held a Council of War, (where it was resolved that the Commissioners appointed for the Treaty, should forthwith begin their journey) decamped with what Forces he had from the Neighborhood of Leopol, and arrived the 23 past near Zorawno, where leaving all their Baggage, the Army about midnight continued its march; the Cavalry advancing before, and arriving at Wayncelow, which is about two Leagues from Zorawno, the Chevalier Lubomirsky marched on with a small Body of men, and about break of day fell upon the Enemies Vanguard, which he surprized, and killed many of them, and put the rest into great disorder; but the Tartars, who were 30 000 strong, commanded by the Chams Son, soon got into order again, upon which Lubomirsky having but a handful of men, retreated to the main Body which stood in Battalia; some Troops had been sent out by the King to second him, but they were not able to make head against the Tartars, who about Noon came down upon the whole Poliſh Army, and the Fight was begun which lasted till evening, when the Enemy not being able to stand against our Huſſars and Dragoons, fled in the greatest confusion possible, leaving behind them several Prisoners, besides the killed upon the place, which were not, it's said, above 1000, for that by reason of the night, our Troops could not pursue them, and besides the Tartars upon such occasions are alwayes too nimble for us; had our Army had its Artillery with it, which was left at Modhaine, greater execution might have been done upon the Enemy.

Lubeck, Octob. 6. By a Vessel arrived from Stockholme, we have advice, that the Assembly of the States of the Kingdom was begun, and promised a happy conclusion, the several Members being very unanimous, and disposed to agree to whatever the safety and good of the Kingdom in the present conjuncture of affairs requires, without spending time in the examination of matters of less importance.

Francfort, Octob. 8. The Count Kinski, one of the Imperial Plenipotentiaries, is in few dayes expected here in his way to Nimeguen. We expect our next Letters from Vienna will tell us, who is to be the Imperial Bride, though when our last Letters came from thence, all the discourse at that Court was of the youngest Princess of Newburg. The Rebels in Hungary begin to appear in a considerable Body, insomuch that the Forces the Emperor has at present there, under the command of General Smit, are not able to make head against them, and the Emperor has found it necessary to cause several Regiments, that were quartered in Bohemia, to march to reinforce them.

Strasburgh, Octob. 9. On Monday last the French Army passed the Rhine at Briſac, and has sent several detachments towards Baſle and Staffort, to have an eye upon the Imperialists, and to hinder their passing the Rhine, which, it's said, they intend to do at Baſle or Rhinfelde; and this day it is reported that Major General Schulez has already passed it with 4000 Horse. Yesterday the Duke of Lorrain was encamped about half a League on the other side of Fribourg, and had detached three Imperial and two Lorrain Regiments, who, it's said, are to march by the way of Spire, to join the Munſter and Lunenburg Troops. The detachment which the Duke of Luxemburg had sent towards Lorrain, and which was already arrived at Saverne, is countermanded, and accordingly marching back to the Army. To morrow the Electoral Prince of Saxony, who is marching with 1700 Horse to join the Imperial Army, is expected here.

From the French Camp at Rixen near Mulhausen, Oct. 10. The 6 inst. we repassed the Rhine at Briſac, and came and encamped here, our General having sent off three detachements, one under the command of the Marquis de Boufflers, which is at present posted at Hegenheim and Hefingen about a mile and half from Baſle; the other under the conduct of the Count du Pleſſys, who is quartered near Beffort; and the third commanded by the Count de Roye, who is posted about three Leagues from
